

My name is Samantha Houle and this is my third season with Creecon construction as a commercial concrete placer. I'm so proud to be a part of so many amazing projects going up in Edmonton and I've met so many great people along the way.

My favourite part about the industry is the fast paced work environment! The physical demand of the job is what makes me most proud of every slab. I enjoy working alongside the guys and being able to gain the experience from their knowledge in the trade. There is so much to know and the learning doesn't stop. Every day is full of different challenges and it's never the same. It's crazy how the day can change in a split second!

Concrete isn't an easy life and it's very unpredictable. It's an everyday physical/emotional roller coaster and I wouldn't want to be living any other life. Work hard, work smart and stay consistent! Your success is a reflection of all the jobs you leave behind so always do your best. In order to become the rare 1% you have to be willing to do what the other 99% won't!
